

Pray I Won't Wake Up

Honky Tonk Hustlas

Pray I Won't Wake Up

Iâ€™ve been beaten down since I was born
It's left me full of hate, despite the scorn
And I donâ€™t see no end to this trouble that Iâ€™m in
And that's what's got me feeling so forlorn

Each day is a struggle, that tests me orâ€™ again
Life it ainâ€™t no bed of roses, and that's the truth my friend
Now Iâ€™d like to run away, but in this life Iâ€™m stuck
And each night when I close my eyes, I pray I wonâ€™t wake up

My granddaddy was a decent man
But he still took his life with his own hand
When I get feeling down, and there's no one else around
I get scared that Iâ€™ll end up like him

Each day is a struggle, that tests me orâ€™ again
Life it ainâ€™t no bed of roses, and that's the truth my friend
And now Iâ€™d like to run away, but in this life Iâ€™m stuck
And each night when I close my eyes, I pray I wonâ€™t wake up

(solo)

I got so much pain built up inside
I can get ahead no matter how I tried
Fear has took its toll on this man and my poor soul
And it's enough to make a grown man cry

Each day is a struggle, that tests me orâ€™ again
Life it ainâ€™t no bed of roses, and that's the truth my friend
And now Iâ€™d like to run away, but in this life Iâ€™m stuck
And each night when I close my eyes, I pray I wonâ€™t wake up

And each night when I close my eyes, I pray I wonâ€™t wake up
