

Isabella

Projections

Isabella, Isabella

I heard you crying through the walls

What's the matter, What's the matter

All the neighbors can hear it down the halls

And I didn't wanna be the first to say

Everyone around here thinks you're crazy

And I didn't wanna be the first to say you shouldn't stay

Isabella, run away

All your heroes, all your records

You play 'em loud but I don't mind the noise

Why you hidin' why you stayin

Maybe you don't think you have a choice

And I didn't wanna tell you face to face

That your mom and dad are straight up crazy

It's really hard for me to say that you shouldn't stay

Isabella, run away

Don't you be afraid

It's never too late

You're a sleeping tiger come awake

Isabella, run away

Out the window of your bedroom

Climb on down the firescape

I left some money and a ticket

For the first time in your life don't be afraid

And baby I will be the first to say

You are stronger than you know you'll find your way

Isabella, run away

Don't you be afraid

It's never too late

You're a sleeping tiger come awake

Isabella, run away

(Isabella, Isabella) x2

Don't you be afraid

It's never too late

You're a sleeping tiger come awake

Isabella, run away

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>