

Organ Song

The Boxer Rebellion

Moving as an unknown too forgiving
No one left to bother when I rebuild it
 There is nothing in between
 Born unraveled at the seams
 Lost where others seem to be
The first horizon wakes with me underneath
I've seen all directions, it seems uncertain
Another world, in another world the past unspoken
 There is nothing in between
 Born unraveled at the seams
 Lost where others seem to be
The first horizon wakes with me underneath

As quick as the hope I was living on
As quick as the hope I was living on
 It's gone, gone, gone, gone
As quick as the hope I was living on
As quick as the hope I was living on
 It's gone, gone, gone, gone
As quick as the hope I was living on
As quick as the hope I was living on
 There is nothing in between
 Born unraveled at the seams
 Lost where others seem to be
The first horizon wakes with me underneath
