

Break Even

Randy Rogers Band

Well this is pretty low, it aint the bottom
Still a long way to go, could I get you to follow
It all comes down to this just give me a reason
Cause I know Ill know Ill never win, we could break evenCause I really dont care, I really dont care whose side
Im on
Cause there is always room at the bottom once the lines been drawn
And I know Ill never win, just let me go on believing
But there is still a chance that we could break evenWell this is gonna hurt, I can ease your pain
Cause once youve felt the fire you dont mind the rain
If you go down, down, down out in the deep end
Could you pull me up just enough to break evenCause I really dont care, I really dont care whose side Im on
Cause there is always room at the bottom once the lines been drawn
And I know Ill never win, just let me go on believing
But there is still a chance that we could break evenTheres still a chance, still a chance she could save me
Theres still a chance Ill just bring you downCause I really dont care, I really dont care whose side Im on
Cause there is always room at the bottom once the lines been drawn
And I know Ill never win, just let me go on believing
But there is still a chance that we could break even
There is still a chance that we could break evenYeah
I just wanna break even
