

All Is Now

The Leisure Society

Inside a mind designs are tied
They shiver in defeat
Recorded all we ever saw
And how compulsions meet I wrote this, didn't notice
I was bathed in something new
And all is now and all is blue Fading in the morning
Fading in the morning
Fading in the morning The languid hours are over now
The haze dies in the heat
As bleeding hearts in every bar
Are folded incomplete
They're calling in the auteurs
Elevating every scene
And all is now and all is dream Fading in the morning
Fading in the morning
Fading in the morning Blind us, set your eyes in us
The auger's pushing through
Sate us, find a place for us
The days formed and flew
It was all down to do
It was all down to do The faded paint of yesterday
Reveals a perfect view
Discovered though it came and went
It's all worth going through
Awoken, tried to open
Lit a fire beneath the fuse
And all is now and all is you Fading in the morning
Fading in the morning
Fading in the morning The pillow caught unleavened thoughts
It threw them to the sun
Uncovered I returned to find
The ache of us undone I wrote this, didn't notice
I was bathed in something new
And all is now and all is through
