Something To Me

Tift Merritt

The song I love the best's the one my father taught to me,
The kindness of a stranger is dust from an unseen wing,
But an old friend at my table is by far the finest thing
This tired mile could give to me
The colors of the man I love are deepest blue and green,
And it isn't very often that I say just what I mean,
Cause the feeling seems to scatter and these words fall in between
For what I miss I'll just tell you thisIt's something to me
It's something to me
I don't know what it comes to and it's not so much to see,
But you take tomorrow so long as you know
It's something to me,
It's something to meWell, the city comes to greet me with her secrets all lit up,
Beauty is letting your guard down all the way in hands you trust,
But there's a time you hold your head up, say it doesn't hurt so much,
Keep all your tears where no one can see
Gentle is the road within me and it's gently I depart,
Cause these well-worn threads of daylight will sometimes come apart,
Giving way to all the shadows where no one can hear your heart,
So down in the dark, if that's where you areIt's something to me
