The Perpetual Horrors

Naglfar

All you see is a shell
there is nothing left inside
I'm dead to this world
I'm driven by a yearning to end all life
Tears of joy in my eyes as you scream, as you dieI have blown out the candle
I have extinguished the flame of life
For I am sworn to the fallen
And their words they are mineThat's why I dominate, that's why I remain
Words of self-hate and horrors, are the teachings that I proclaimI feel it burning inside
The darkness that grows stronger endlessly
The force I serve craves no names
Your souls are the ultimate sacrificeOpen your veins!That's why I dominate, that's why I remainI have blown out the candle
I have extinguished the flame of life
For I am sworn to the fallen
And their horrors are mineAs you stare into my eyes
Loveless, cold
You'll read the message of the end
Since aeons foretold
It feels like I'm caressed by the dead
Invisible fingers tear and shred
I see no future ahead
Towards an early grave I'm ledI have blown out the candle
I have extinguished the flame of life
For I am sworn to the fallen
And these words they are mineAlone in the night I will descend into the waters dark and old.
Eaten up by this yearning to end my life
I will lower my head, breathe in, then die

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/