

Believe Me

Blues Traveler

I can feel your pity, I can feel your pain
And they're never goin' to bother you again
Well, I don't know how and I ain't sure why
But I promise you I'm really gonna try Believe me I hate tribulation, I don't want no trial
I can conquer with my state of denial
And I want to save you, so I guess I can
When I grow up, I'll be a faith healin' man Believe me When all is said and done, we've already won
When all is said and done, we've already won You feel like you're part of the plan
When you want to be a faith healin' man Believe me When all is said and done, we've already won
When all is said and done, we've already won
