Keep You Waiting

Submersed

Living lost in a moment by myself
Still I feel at home
Behind these walls that I built up around myself
They keep me safe and warmI don't want to be set free
Just wanna live inside this dream
So please don't waste your time on meI won't keep you waiting
Until I learn to see
Nothing gets me hurt now
I find it hard to breatheSo understand what I'm made of
I found myself, I have to be alone
Can't you see? It's so confusingThese days won't give It's so hard to live with you hereI don't want to be set free
I just want to let it be
So please don't waste your time on meI won't keep you waiting
Until I learn to see
Nothing gets me hurt now
I find it hard to breatheI'm stuck here in my dream, oh no
I'm stuck here in my dream, oh no
Oh yeahDo you think that we could be undivided?
Always united?
Walking the same road?
