

Save You

Turin Brakes

Tired eyes, maybe you've seen too much.
Tired heart, every end has a start
If you find yourself in trouble, falling off the track
Would you come back
Would you come back
Would you come back Time will save you
You don't need to save yourself
Sorry eyes of those left behind
When we were kids do these thing we oblige
If you find yourself alone, with no need to call home Will you come back
Will you come back
Will you come back Time will save you
You dont need to save yourself
Time will save you
You dont need to save yourself And if you need me now, you know i'm here
For the deepest scars dissappear
Time will save you
You dont need to save yourself
Time will save you
You dont need to save yourself
Time will save you
You dont need to save yourself
Time will save you
You dont need to save yourself
Time will save you
You dont need to save yourself
