

Tonight

Timothy B. Schmit

I heard you talking the other day
You take pride in never wearing a frown
    But when the chips fall another way
Your crying can be heard across townIt's a misunderstanding
    Ain't no wrong or right
Just as long as you're with meTonight - Anyway the wind blows
Tonight - Doesn't matter where we goYou try to meet with your so called friends
    But they're always gone - got something to do
    They're so concerned with the latest trends
They don't even know they're special to youThink you're way over due now
    Maybe the time is right
So take my hand and come with meTonight - Anyway the wind blows
    Tonight - Doesn't matter where we go
    Tonight - We shouldn't even look back
Tonight - We're heading down the right trackI don't see any rhyme or reason
    Why we should give up without a fight
    Look hard you'll see the light
'Cause you know there's so much more
    TonightWe've got nothing to lose now
        Get ready for the flight
So buckle up and make sure you hold on and stay with meTonight - Anyway the wind blows
    Tonight - Doesn't matter where we go
    Tonight - We shouldn't even look back
Tonight - We're heading down the right track
    Tonight
