Sunday School Girl

Larry Carter

Sunday School Girl - Larry Carter

Verse 1:

She try's to be real quiet,
As she hurrys accross the yard.
Mom & dad are sleeping off,
An evening at the bar.
She's wearing the same dress,
She wore a week ago.
But after seven days ,
Maybe no one else will know.
She anxiously awaits,
Anticipation on her face.
When the bus tops the hill,
A smile will take its place.

Chorus:

She's a Sunday school girl
In a Friday night world
In an ocean of despair
She's has found a pearl

Teacher in Jesus
Have become her friend
And someday this day
Will never end

She's in her own little world
She's a Sunday school girl

Verse 2:

She try's to be real quiet
As she comes back thru the yard
Two hours of love
Locked inside her heart

If only she could find the words
That she longs to stay
Then maybe mommy
And daddy would change

As the dawn begins to break
She can hardly wait
She goes from hell to heaven
Every Sunday

Chorus:

She's a Sunday school girl
In a Friday night world
In an ocean of despair
She has found a pearl

Teacher in Jesus
Has become her friend
And someday this day
Will never end

She's in her own little world
She's a Sunday school girl.

Ending:

She's in her own little world
She's a Sunday school girl.

Lyrics Submitted by Danielle Parker

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/