Forever

Aaron Lewis

Another cheap high rise hotel room.

Another place another show.

Another meaningless destination with no where to go.

Another time to say I love you.

Another time to say goodnight.

Another time to hear a dial tone.

Cause no one wants to fight.

Why should we fight..?

Cause I see it in your eyes,

Is the sparkle gone forever?

Don't say forever...

I can feel it when we touch,

Is the fire out forever?

Don't say forever...

Another time to miss a birthday.

Another time to miss my flight.

I've missed so much that I don't know what I have and what I thought I might.

What I might...

Cause I see it in your eyes,

Is the sparkle gone forever?

Don't say forever...

I can feel it when we touch,

Is the fire out forever?

Don't say forever...

Now I'm lying beside you,

A stranger in your arms.

We drift apart together and come back like a storm.

Like a storm...

Another show up in Decatur,

Another one in San Antone,

Somewhere else in this equator takes me far away from home.

I'm coming home...

I can see it your eyes,

The sparkle shines forever,

Cause this is forever...

And I can feel it when we touch,

The fire burns forever,

Cause this is forever...

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/