I'll Remember You

Don Vedda

Buried in this moment
I just can't seem to get away
All the little things that had made me feel alive inside are gone

Alone
With all the bitter words that can't be unsung
Alone
And remembering things that can't be undone
I'll remember you, you, you
I'll remember you, you, you

Every waking moment
I think of you and curse at the sky
Cause every little thing that had made me feel alive inside is gone

Alone
With all the bitter words that can't be unsung
Alone
And remembering things that can't be undone
I'll remember you, you, you
I'll remember you, you, you
I'll remember you, you, you
I'll remember you, you, you

I can't stop now
Gotta get through the pain
I'll remember your name and I hope you're proud
Proud of everything I've done
Proud of the man that I've become
I can't stop now
Gotta get through the pain
I'll remember your name and I hope you're proud
Proud of everything I've done
Proud of the man that I've become

Alone
With all the bitter words that can't be unsung
I'm standing here alone
And remembering things that can't be undone
Alone

With all the bitter words that can't be unsung
I'm standing here alone
And remembering things that can't be undone
I'll remember you, you, you
I'll remember you, you, you
I'll remember you, you, you
I'll remember you, you, you

Lyrics Submitted by Emily Rowley

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/