

Missing You

Jem

I wish this could be a happy song
But my happiness disappeared the moment you were gone
Don't think I ever believed that this day would come
Now all I'm feeling is lost and numb
And oh I know I promised
Mmm that I would try
But I, yes I miss you and it's killing inside
I'll always be thankful for the time we had
We were blessed I should celebrate but I feel too sad
All the wonderful memories just make me fall apart
And it feels like somebody's stabbed me in my heart
And ohhh you know I promised
Mmm that I wouldn't cry
But I, yes I miss you and it's killing inside
Ooh well I, yes I miss you, want you by my side
Walking, holding hands, talking, making plans
Touching my heart my soul
I wish this could be a happy song
But my happiness disappeared the moment you were gone
Tell me it's not happening, say it's not as it seems
Tell me that I'm gonna wake up, it's just a bad dream
Please tell me that it's fiction, tell me it's just a lie
Whatever you choose to tell me, please say he didn't die
And I, yes I, miss you and it's killing inside
Ooh well I, yes I, miss you, want you by my side
Ooh well I, I, miss you, want you by my side
Back here by my side, here by my side
