Blur

Zebrahead

Did you ever, did you ever
Did you ever get the feeling that you were all alone
And no one ever knew you and you never had a home
And the lights and the colors do their best to distract you
Fuck you, I don't even know why I like you
It's all a blur, it's all a blur
Take me along
It's all a blur, it's all a blur
Like a picture, it's all a blur
You don't know what you're missing
You don't know what you're missing
I've been trying so hard just to keep away
And now look where I am standing at today
Trying so hard to walk away
But it's impossible to watch you fade away
To watch you fade away
Did you ever stop believing after all was said and done?
When you turned to your friends but they were long gone
And the sky and the snapshots remind you
I trust you and I'm always going to miss you
It's all a blur, it's all a blur
Take me along, bring it back I said
It's all a blur, it's all a blur
Like a picture, it's all a blur
You don't know what you're missing

You don't know what you're missing
I've been trying so hard just to keep away
And now look where I am standing at today
Trying so hard to walk away
But it's impossible to watch you fade away
Every time I see you look at me
I see those distant eyes and your looks are fading
Every time you're next to me
I want to talk and feel and act like we used to
'Cause everybody knows and everybody cares
Until they're walking in my shoes and now I know
It's you that I cannot lose
It's all a blur and I owe you you can take it all

When I call, pick up the phone like you used to It's all a blur like a picture, it's all a blur you're just a blur
I've been trying so hard just to keep away
And now look where I am standing at today
Trying so hard to walk away
But it's impossible to watch you fade away
Trying, dying so hard I've been denying that I'm not scarred
I've been crying, lying so far but it's impossible to fill this space
Impossible to take your place, impossible to watch you fade away
To watch you fade away, to watch you fade away
T watch you fade away

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/