Noriko Matsueda/Takahito Eguchi

When I disappear, do you fear for my sister and talk
When I disappear, it is clear I am up to no good
I am drearily blunt, letting this time, waiting for too long
So the last thing you realize youll miss what you've already gotSo touch me or don't, just let me know
Where you've beenPlease draw me a line with a hook and some raw bleeding bait
Well, I am uncaught and still swimming alone in the lake
Shimmering under a moon made in anger and angst
Shimmering like a penny out of reach in the subway grateTouch me or don't, just let me know
Where you've been
We could leave it alone, I'm sure there's someone who knows
Where you've beenYou never worked well with our group
Not with the faults we found
So we fixed you with cement galoshes
And no one can save you nowUnless you have friends among fish
There'll still be no air to breathe
You could drink up the entire ocean
I'll still find someone to be everything we know that you'll never beSo touch me or don't, just let me know
Where you've been
Or we could leave it alone, I'm sure there's someone who knows
Where you've been
