

What Would I Want? Sky

Animal Collective

Sky! [What would I want? Sky!] Is everything alright?
You feeling moany?
You feeling lonely?
You're not the only Is everything alright?
You feeling stormy?
You feeling phoney?
You're not the only Do you get up up up?
Clouds stop and move above me
Too bad they can't help me
What is the right way? Do I float up up up?
When I stop and look around me
Grey is where the color should be
What is the right way? Old glasses clinking and a New order's blinking and I -
I should be floating but I'm weighted by thinking That I got on the river
Really can't make you change
And the sky gets filled up too fast and the taxi man's saying, "You betta give me some money; stop daydreaming, dude!"
When the point of horizon is hiding from you
What would you want sky? Are you taking it lightly?
Lost in the flurries
You start to worry
You will be buried
Taking it lightly
and so I hurry
I start to worry
Here come them flurries Is everything alright?
You feeling lonely?
You feeling moldy?
You're not the only Is everything alright?
You feeling stormy?
You feeling foamy?
You're not the only Do you get up up up?
Clouds stop and move above me
Too bad they can't help me
What is the right way? Do I float up up up?
When I stop and look around me

Grey is where that color should be
What is the right way? Old glasses clinking and a
New order's blinking and I -
I should be floating but I'm weighted by thinking I'm a fly on the river
That'll make me some change
When the sky gets filled up too fast and the taxi cab's waiting, "You betta
give him some money;
stop daydreaming, dude!"
When the point of horizon is hiding it's blues
What would you want sky? What would I want? Sky! What would I want? Sky!

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>