

The Orchard

Benjamin Hudson, Michael Parloff, Allen Blustine,

we both had doubts
we both had doubts
i found myself
while i was away
all your life
now i understand
so many hours
and no company
but you imagine things
through cold eyes asleep
then what have i seen this for we both know about...
all my life
you were important
and your father too
wandering the orchard

through budding dormant eyes on a lamp lit plain
you imagine things
why does he speak to me to you, i know, i only stare without my life is dull
and my body aches
oh, i imagined things
through cold eyes asleep
and i won't think back more than i do
my life is dull
and my body aches
all this blood in my mouth
makes me hate
how we both end up
