

Phonecall

Fracture

Phone broke the silence of the night
I'd been sleeping
And a voice said, "How you doing Dan
Thought I'd call you for no reason" And my mind flashed back two years
Since the last time I'd see her
When the love we'd shared had died And she said, "Things are going well for you
I'm glad you still have music
I remember times you felt so damned confused
I thought you'd lose it Do you still make crazy faces
At the mirror in the morning
How come you never said goodbye "I chose my words so carefully
But I felt my past seducing me
"Slow down", she said
"I just want to be your friend" I said, "That's the way the whole thing started
And I just can't fall in love with you again
Knowing it'll end" And all I heard was silence
And I wished she was beside me
Like the first time we made love
And I felt waterfalls inside me So I tried to dial her number
But my fingers froze
And slowly I closed my eyes I chose my words so carefully
But I felt my past seducing me
"Slow down", she said
"I just want to be your friend" I said, "That's the way the whole thing started
And I just can't fall in love with you again
Knowing it'll end"
