Surrender to a Stranger

Soft Cell

LonelyI'd like to drown me in my coffee
Counting hours with cappuccinosSitting framed within the windowI sit here acting like I'm reading
I'm lonelyI'm reading mindsAnd sadly dreaming
There's some of me left to believe inSurrenderSurrenderThat businessman smell
Found in one night hotelsThe sheets are unwashedTobacco and sweat
From the stories they tellAnd initials in dustThe man at the desk
Throws you looks of disgustSoon I'll try hard to lose you Drown you in my cappuccinoSurrenderSurrenderSodom and Gomorrah
Come tomorrowI won't know you from Adam or EveLook me in the eyesAnd tell me you love meOnce, before you leaveSurrenderSurrender

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/