Let Me Ride

Irradio

So what about the end? When you said to run. I don't like your words. Take what you know. And get it through your head. Listen to the eyes. I said run away. To fall in love again. Too much. What the people want. Has come. What the women fear. Between. Why the children sing. I've seen. Loud and clear. Along we ran. On again. Now that you heal. Take a look around. It complicates, it ends. So take it off and let me ride. I should've said, should've done everything. You turn me on.
