#Forever

Zaza

Don't know who you are
Or what this means
But I can't deny what I've seenThere's a dream I've seen
Now I believe you're somewhere here, wanderingCan't tell you how it ends the story's barely there, about to begin
But I can see your light
As the daylight turns to nightI've been waiting forever, ever
And I've been thinking you'd never, ever come aroundYou're here, it's clear you're gonna stay
Those parts of the past we'll throw away
And I don't wanna let you go
'cause in my heart I know
You know everything about me
I don't wanna wake up from this dream
Then the alarm ringsWell it's pretty clear, clear to me
That you're really here, you don't wanna leave
But something's wrong, you're walking on and I can see your shadows around every turn
Well it goes by way too fast, and my memories stay from the past
Why do we always say forever, actually, forever never lastsI've been waiting forever, ever
And I've been thinking you'd never, ever come aroundYou're here, it's clear you're gonna stay
Those parts of the past we'll throw away
And I don't wanna let you go
'cause in my heart I know
You know everything about me
I don't wanna wake up from this dream
Then the alarm ringsIn my mind it's always better
Don't make me wait forever
Can you really see what you do to me
If I lose you I lose a part of me
Can you tell me why this is happening
Are you something that I'm imagining?
If you have to leave, promise me, you'll be back and you're sorryWell it's pretty clear, clear to me
That you're really here, you don't wanna leave
I've been waiting forever, ever
And I've been thinking, you'd never, ever come aroundYou're here, it's clear you're gonna stay
Those parts of the past we'll throw away
And I don't wanna let you go
'cause in my heart I know
You know everything about me
I don't wanna wake up from this dream

Then the alarm rings
