Heart Starts Beating

Lovelite

Before we knew of our great need
You cared for us
You have buried sin and death
Deep in the dustYou call us out from our sleep
And we run to YouYour death awakens me to life
And my heart starts beating, my heart starts beating
Endless songs arise to You
And our hearts start beating, our hearts start beatingCatching glimpses of Your face
We're wanting more
Fill our senses and our souls
So we can't ignore
