

Alone

Zombie Ghost Train

If I could see you through my blame and realize that you're the same
I'd comfort my heart on my dirt place
I'll be so glad with your happiness

Strange is how I feel myself so alone
Even with my hundred-thousand years along
Hide away of my fucking fears
That screams aloud inside my wretched soul

Everything I did was wrong
Me and my damned liar tongue
But my mistakes made you strong
I fell down and now I'm so alone
