

Say It Again

Matt Berry

Say it again cause it made me smile
Something I've not done for a while
The weather feels hot for this time of year
Though suddenly feels so coldA rat stops a foot from my bed
Nothing to do but look straight at it
Must be a sign or something you said
Suddenly feels so coldBow out, change my name in fact
Turn around, leave and don't come backSay it again cause it made me smile
Something I've not done for a while
The weather feels hot for this time of year
Though suddenly feels so coldI'm feeling ashamed but I don't know why
Like I've seen myself from a recent life
The weather feels hot for this time of year
Though suddenly seems so coldBow out, change my name in fact
Turn around, leave and don't come back
Bow out, change my name in fact
