That Season

Asia

I told her, I'd hold her
All through that first cold winter
Defend her, protect her
From our darkest demonsThen spring came, our world changed
We found a different corner
Still heading, still searching
For what we had that seasonI thought I was so strong, a man on a blue mountain
The sword in my hand, but my thoughts in the clouds then
See them
Hear themI would never change another day
If that season was the one to stay
I swear I'd never change another dayTen years now, I've waited
For that coldest winter
No whiter, no wiser
And all we hear is thunderI thought I was so strong, a father on a mountain
The sword in my hand, but my thoughts in the clouds then
See them
Hear themI would never change another day
If that season was the one to stay
I swear I'd never change another day
(repeat)Ten years now, I've waited
For that coldest winter
No wiser, no whiter
Oh how I miss that season

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/