

Requiem

The New York Room

shivering in the cold shimmering in the calm
the still calm
Father
someday has come and gone away far away
beyond
beyond the space between us lead the way
back home to you to the comfort I have been missing for so longstruggling to find smothering out the last light from the sky
Father
someday is here and now you are gone gone away still I want to finally find a way to you
lead the way
to thee today
I have been gone so longI am so tired I have been looking for too long sometimes searching in vane someday I will find
when the search is over
I am so tired
I am coming home

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>