Not My Fault

Boomkat

You know I felt much better when I had you
With me the thunder and lightning was so beautiful
But I awoke from my dream just like I always seem to
It all feels so realSo everybody I know, they know me well
Enough to know to get close, is hard as hell
But that don't mean you shouldn't try
I really think you should tryI've tried to fight it, but now I am on my knees[CHORUS:]
It's not my fault
If I can't hold on, I'm not that strong
No, it's not my fault
Can't you just play along with meIt's been so long since we slept in the same bed
It's hard to get me alone or get inside my head
Would you prefer me to fake it and cry instead
You say it's like I'm deadAnd you tried to fight it, but now you're on your knees[CHORUS]I find that everything I try always falls apart
Crashes and dies and
I find the strength to try again
Oh I fall to my knees, and pray to begin, oh[CHORUS 2x]
