Every Now And Then

Girls Aloud

All this time, looking for a light
All this time, I?m still trying I gave you all my love
I took it back again
But the candle in my heart
It flickers now and then I knew it from the start
I knew it at the end
We said it never work
But I still think about you every now and then
And you?re out of my heart Swear I can?t pretend
But the heart tears apart
As I still think about you every now and then Every now and then,
Now, right then
Right now, right then, right now
Oh right now
Never ever going back,
I said I never would again,
it?s better now that we?re apart,
but I still think about you every now and then
now and then, now and then, 'bout you every now and then
now and then,
but I still think about you every now and then
now and then, now and then, 'bout you every now and then
now and then,
but I still think about you every now and then
Never ever going back,
I said I never would again,
it?s better now that we?re apart,

but I still think about you every now and then
now and then, now and then, 'bout you every now and then
now and then,
but I still think about you every now and then
now and then, now and then, 'bout you every now and then
now and then,
but I still think about you every now and then

I gave you everything,
I even wore your ring,
you got under my skin,
and you know why.
you left me wondering,
you left the shadows in,
the seven deadly sins,
that you can't hide.
'Cause if the love is not enough, when I?m going gets tough, you give me all that you got,
but my heart won?t beat again
Never ever going back,
I said I never would again,
it?s better now that we?re apart,
but I still think about you every now and then
now and then, now and then, 'bout you every now and then
now and then,
but I still think about you every now and then
now and then, now and then, 'bout you every now and then
now and then,
but I still think about you every now and then
now and then, now and then, 'bout you every now and then
now and then,
but I still think about you every now and then
now and then, now and then, 'bout you every now and then
now and then,
but I still think about you every now and then

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/