Faces

Orgy

Did you think I'd play these games with you?
Did you think I couldn't help it?
I'm strong enough, I'm good enoughStep down, step down, you're the big mistake
I'm losing all control and this is my face
From here on out you can always count on me
Count on me to be your enemy, count on meThese are the faces
(Faces of time)
That's what you're living through
This is all about youYou're slipping in and out of time, who are you to decide
Which one of us winds up broken for a lifetime?
And still you'll never be satisfied until one of us falls apart
I've had enough of this and these are the facesYou've lost your golden reigns, you've failed to read the signs
You'll find out there's no answers to your stupid ass questions
You can try and tell yourself that everything's all rightWhen someone is taking all your fame
That's what you're living through, these are the faces
And I think that they're all coming after youWhen you're slipping in and out of time, who are you to decide
Which one of us winds up broken for a lifetime?
And no you'll never be satisfied until one of us falls apart
I've had enough of this and these are the facesAnd nothing can go away and nothing can go away
(The way you do)
Two faced and pretentiousWhen you're slipping in and out of time, who are you to decide
Which one of us winds up broken for a lifetime?
And no you'll never be satisfied until one of us falls apart
I've had enough of this and these are the faces

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/