

Clear Perception

Climate Control

Everything in circles
Numb acceptance for whats changed
For it is too late now, I know
I hope one day you have my sight,
Feel and understand
Please
Know my pain:Where have you gone? I've been waiting too long
Dust around me from the time spent stagnant
I have not grown, have not let go
Theres no way for me to grasp how you couldI find myself. I find myself lost
Times of light and then absence thereof
When all seems lost, empty and defeated
All I have to turn to are those images already lived
Already loved. Already gone.Where have you gone? I've been waiting too long
Dust around me from the time spent stagnant
I have not grown, have not let go
Theres no way for me to grasp how you couldNothing lasts forever, kill or be killed
In this life so far, all that I've learned
Let go of your foundations or suffer
Unless thats just me
