

Antennae's Wife

Aaron Sprinkle

They met her at the baggage claim

When they read her rights she was causing quite a scene

So they threw her in the lincoln town with the cuffs too tight

Did they have to be so meanShe was on her way to Calispell to a relatives

Just to lay it low a while

But they must've tapped the phone again

Even though he's gone they won't let her off the lineSo she thinks out loud as she screams and shouts

I'm not the one they found me guilty by associationThey met her at the baggage claim

When they read her rights she was causing quite a scene

So they threw her in the Lincoln town with the cuffs too tight

Did they have to be so mean

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>