Test Tube Teens

Teen Idols

Preserved in a glass tube in a dark deep freezer making new friends with a cum filled beaker children of science embraced defiance and now they're 17 years olddoctors in the lab coats with electrode wires fucked up their brains with synaptic fires frankenstein-like they rise at twilight and rage with a lust know as teenagecreated and grown from fluid to flesh and bone a flaw undetected that science could not have known a child of the atom knows nothing of friend or foe unleashed on the masses the test tube teens are go!hidden in secret they grew too quickly their social misguidance was twisted sickly with man made feelings and scars still healing they were hurled into an unsuspecting world
