Benjamin

Sanctus Real

Rain falls outside
I think the sky must know what's happening tonight
Children born while fathers die
It's that circle of life that we all live in timeAnd we've been friends for a long, long time
So, if you can't talk, just cry
And know that we will talk
On the other sideIt's bitter cold outside
But the sun still shines 'cuz we can feel it
Benjamin, you mark the life
That's been left behind, we see him in your eyesAnd we will be friends for a long, long time
So, until you can talk, just cry
And know that we will talk
For the rest of our livesAnd He gives and He takes
And it makes us strong
When He gives, He takes
And it makes us strongWhen He gives and He takes
And it makes us strong
When He gives, He takes
And He makes us strong'Cuz we will be friends for a long, long time
So, until you can talk, just cry
And know that we will talk
For the rest of our lives'Cuz we will be friends for a long, long time
So, until you can talk, just cry
And know that we will talk
For the rest of our livesJust know that we'll be friends
For the rest of our lives
