Fortune

Emma Pollock

(Ah, Ah, Ah, Ah)
There is fortune in my name, Currency in letters
If this life is just a game, I'll try to play it better
We all started just the same, The hopeful and the hopeless
On the streets we made our name, Our confidence, our harness
I know the marks, They don't show on the outside
But each of us carries a tale
And one of these days, We won't talk anymore
Silence begins when we fail, And I
Think I, might break

(Ah, Ah, Ah, Ah)
Now we separate again, But who to lay the blame on These years of laying claim, To values I could count on
I know the marks, They don't show on the outside
But each of us carries a tale
One of these days, We won't talk anymore
Silence begins when we fail, And I
Think I, might break
(Ah) And I, (Ah) Think I, might break
(Ah) And I, (Ah) Think I, might break

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/