Gary Numan

No more than chance, I'm told it's quite surprising
I could walk out and just impress myself
I need to hurt, I need to crash for my sake
You are something that I could do without And I could always take the pills and leave
But you have to stay awake to stay away And I would die for you and I would cry too
[Incomprehensible] I dream of [Incomprehensible] like a favourite pastime
With conversation like, "I need to breathe"
[Incomprehensible] celebration makes me crawl away and hide
And you must know that I would die for you And I could always take the pills and leave
But you have to stay awake to stay away And I will die for you
And I will die for you
And I will die for you
