

Stalingrad

Tom Verlaine

Walking home from Stalingrad,
Mona says it's oh, so, bad.
But I know, I know,
I've been really had,
Walking home from Stalingrad.

She says:
I know my flesh and blood,
I may not see again.
But I can think of that as
A new kind of end.

Walking home from Stalingrad,
Mona says it's all so sad.
I know, I know,
I must have been completely mad.
Walking home from Stalin...
Walking home from Stalingrad.

Oh, I suppose there are
A thousand facts to face,
Considering just what has,
And has not taken place.

Mona says it's all so bad,
Walking home from Stalingrad.
I know...
I know...

I know my flesh and blood,
I may not see again.
But I can think of that as
A new kind of end.
Walking home from Stalingrad,
Mona says she feels so bad.
I know...
I know...
I must have been completely mad.
Walking home from Stalin...
Walking home from Stalingrad.

Walking home from Stalin...
Walking home from Stalingrad.

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com

written by VERLAINE, TOM

Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group, EMI Music Publishing

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>