My Own Enemy

Thousand Foot Krutch

Hold up, oh no who let them in the door?
It's like a freak show, shake it like a photo
Hate is only what you say, not what you mean
And pain is what's inside of me, not when you're bleeding
And I will fall, I'll fall and take your breathe away
We could change it all and take your breathe away
This anger changes me, it affects the way I see
Effects every part of me and makes you my enemy
But when it falls apart, it's like a brand new start
And I can't remember why I ripped everything apart
It's like a freak show, shake it like a photo
I'm still my worst enemy, the world around me
All can see what they wanna see
I need some help because I'm still my worst enemy
No matter where I am, I'll still get the best of me
I'm my own enemy
Hold up, oh no who let them in the door?
Shake the world inside of me until it can't be shaken
Wake the words inside of me before it's all too late
And I will fall, I'll fall and take your breathe away
We could change it all and take your breathe away
This anger changes me, it affects the way I see
Effects every part of me and makes you my enemy
But when it falls apart, it's like a brand new start
And I can't remember why I ripped everything apart
I'm still my worst enemy, the world around me
All can see what they wanna see
I need some help because I'm still my worst enemy
No matter where I am, I'll still get the best of me
I'm my own enemy
I'm still my worst enemy, the world around me
All can see what they wanna see
I need some help because I'm still my worst enemy
No matter where I am, I'll still get the best of me
I'm my own enemy
My own enemy
My own enemy

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/