

There'll Come A Day

The Ten Tenors

There'll come a day, one day I swear
When you will awake and find me there
Day after day, I think of the day
I'll see you, just see you There'll come a night, I know there will
When this world stands, perfectly still
Night after night I dream of the night
I'll hold you, just hold you All that stands between us
All that's in our way
He's the king of waiting
And watching There'll come a day, one day I swear
When you will awake and find me there
Day after day, I think of the day
I'll see you, just see you Hold you, just hold you
Love you and take you home There'll come a day, one day I swear
When you will awake and find me there
Day after day, I think of the day
I'll see you, just see you Hold you, just hold you
Love you and take you home
