More's the Pity

Treble Charger

I am everything
I am on the brink of still
It's not all, it's true
Sitting on a sprinklerTake my call and see
The receiver to your ear
When you bridge the leap
It will all become so clearThat there's not only one of me
Just look closely now
Count them all and you'll get three
That one's cleverThis one's free but it's your favorite
I hate more's the pityI've seen everything
I can only think is true
Check my windowpane
If you can't enjoy the viewI could fall for less
I believe a thing you say
Write it down for me
And it will all come into playThere's not only one of me
Just look closely now
Count them all and you'll get three
That one's cleverThis one's free but it's your favorite
I hate more's the pityLined up in a row
Like little dolls, like bungalows
The reasons look the same
A newer version, same old gameI am everything
I am on the brink
I'm not anything
I could use a drinkTell me what you see
You look close but it's not me
I'm not what you need
And I'll never, ever be
