Windows

Broken Bells

City dark, higher up, you notice
Set it up, leave it up, you're hopeless now
The whole world is treating you wrongPushing back 'cross the sand
Find a light between the system
But before we collide
[Incomprehensible]All the world beyond the window
All the world beyond, you areAll the love up above
Tell the lights, I'm not to see it
Tight grip, empty hand
Otherwise we start to look inAll the world beyond the window
All the world beyond, you areCity dark, higher up, you notice
Set it up, leave it up, you're hopeless now
The whole world is treating you wrongCity dark, higher up, you notice
Set it up, leave it up, you're hopeless now
The whole world is treating you wrongIn the night, you could run
Like a book between the pictures
And you look underground
For the light, detect the ridgesAll the world beyond the window
All the world beyond, you areCity dark, higher up, you notice
Set it up, leave it up, you're hopeless now
The whole world is treating you wrongCity dark, higher up, you notice
Set it up, leave it up, you're hopeless now
The whole world is treating you wrong
