The Encounter

ä¹ çŸ³è-²

Like leaves on trees in fall, I'm shivering, I'm falling
Like the screams from a new born child
So innocent, so fragile, screaming, struggling, trying Want to see what the future holds, this life in fear is no life at allThe will I had ain't strong enough
And the strength I seek ain't there
My world is dead, my future's broken
And it all stays the sameThey're coming
They're coming here to stay
They're coming
They're taking me awayThey're coming
They're coming here to stay
They're coming
They're taking me awayI beg for a helping hand
I'm reaching, I am searching, but no
And I pray for an ear that listens
My hope's washed away
I'm here aloneI hear them, they're coming
Quickly through the hallway
The door opens
Helpless againThe will I had ain't strong enough
The strength I seek ain't there
My world is dead, my future's broken
'Cause it all stays the sameThey're coming, they're coming here to stay
They're coming, they're taking me away
They're coming only to leave me in shame
Simply leave me

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/