Like Always

Motorpsycho

Phrasemaking
wondering and pondering how things might should go on not really having fun Endlessly
gazing up the staicase
of tomorrows pros & cons such overwhelming concience weighing tons Like always
Fly by night
from the glacier smile to hide behind so precious and so kind So sincere
no evidence of intelligence took time to see it through I had no will, no vision and no clue
Like always Growing thinner
with a shiny smile
the world is shrinking
before the Eye....
Falling too
upon the gravel road
the lonely churchyard on the hill with too much hate to kill Nosebleed
reminding me of snowball wars we often ran away
and hid untill last rays of the day Like always
