The Yearning

Empyrium

If you only saw it all
Would your words even change?
The torment, the anger, out last demise
Your truth defeats my timeAll and all, for what it's worth
Would you change your fucking mind?
You carry on, I'll walk behind
No need to test our timeThe story goes on again
It all repeats the same
The crying, screaming, loss for words
Your memory remainsAll I ask for is strength of mind
I numb to ease the pain
You play your part, the victim at heart
Once more repeats the sameThe yearning keeps burning
It all repeats the same
Regret, it sits, I can't be proud of this Condemned I amJust sit inside this shell
Hide all my feelings
And take me from this world
I could not leave all I know behind
