

Introduction - Moonstruck

Bear Girl

Well it meant something to me when you washed up on my shore.
They call me heathen; my concepts distress their minds.
Gonna take you away from me
They're gonna take you away from me but you washed up on my shore.I always knew that it would happen like this They'll burn out the sky and drag you out to the ocean
I always knew that it would happen like thisThough I know you can't recall
The past that resolves in this present
Run when they say they're here for you Don't let them distaste what I have doneWhen I found your broken body
I could have gone on home
But I bestowed renascence to you
Oh noBaby I have no controlDoes your heart beat like a monster?
