

Red Guitar

Cassandra Wilson

Wash my face with blue water
Lay my head on white linens
Morning comes, drink black coffee
Then i play my song on red guitarTake my flight through blue heavens
Walk my path in green gardens
Drive my car on black highway
Then I play my song on red guitar*Everyday the colors come and dance for me
Every night they fade and disappear
We are merely shadows floating in this world
We got nothing to lose, we got nothing to fear oh no, no...*
(*Repeat)
Drink my wine from pink glasses
Take the stage with purple princes
Love my man, yellow roses
Then i play my song on red guitar
I play my song on red guitar
Play my song on red guitar
