

Freak!

Heaven 17

Freak

There's a hole in me that's ten feet wide

There's a window come and look inside

Tell me everything you see

Because some very strange things have been happening to me

To the rhythm of the rain I'm exploring the pain

I slip and slide my own way through

Now I feel like I'm having a ball

But I've got a head full of nothing at all

I'm a ... freak

The people come and people say

Another day just thrown away

Freak

You listen up to what's been said

Shake those dreams from your sleep head

Freak

It's getting harder to be me

I feel like I'm a refugee

Freak

You're looking for someone to blame

That freak of nature's here again I'm thrilled to discover there is a lot to forget

I've done so many things I'll never regret

The time has come to hesitate

I've got to make a move so I think I'll wait

I know I'm not stupid but I just can't see

Why everybody thinks there's something wrong with me.

There's nothing in this world can alter my direction

I need to be a freak for my own protection

The people come and people say

Another day just thrown away

Freak

You listen up to what's been said

Shake those dreams from your sleep head

Freak

It's getting harder to be me

I feel like I'm a refugee

Freak

You're looking for someone to blame

That freak of nature's here again Listen now and listen to me

This is more or less the way it will be
You're an x and I'm a y
Just take a look up to the sky...
Around this planet shining bright
I'm just a lonely satellite
I'm as far away as far can be
I'm scared of the 21st centuryFreakThe people come and people say
Another day just thrown away
Freak
You listen up to what's been said
Shake those dreams from your sleep head
Freak
It's getting harder to be me
I feel like I'm a refugee
Freak
You're looking for someone to blame
That freak of nature's here again
