

Your Sister's Clothes

Pulp

I never thought that you would come / your sister said your nerve had gone You're trying to make it straight right now but I don't think that you know how Your sister knows / she wears your clothes / she laughs at all those things you chose Your sister knows / takes off your clothes we use your bed for goodness knows / Ow I left something where I knew you'd find it Lift your pillow and you'll see / and he's coming round today
Hey hey / Check out if you're still alive / talking dirt won't change your life
Listen hard and you can hear her saying not to be so afraid
Loosen up and lay right down / watch her as she's going down
It's easy when you stop pretending that you just got lost on the way na na na now now Your sister knows / she wears your clothes she laughs at all those things you chose / Your sister knows takes off your clothes / We use your bed for goodness knows I can't remember where we met / I can't remember what we said
I can't forget the things we did / when everything just seemed to fit
Your sister knows / takes off your clothes we use your bed for goodness knows / She's says it's better with two if you'd just stop being so stuck up / and he's coming round today
Hey hey / Check out if you're still alive / talking dirt won't change your life
Listen hard and you can hear her saying not to be so afraid
Loosen up and lay right down / watch her as she's going down
It's easy when you stop pretending that you just got lost on the way
Try it; you might like it / But you might / smudge your lipstick and he's coming round today / Check out if you're still alive talking dirt won't change your life
Listen hard and you can hear her saying not to be so afraid
Loosen up and lay right down / watch her as she's going down
It's easy when you stop pretending that you just got lost on the way
Loosen up and lay right down / watch her as she's going down
It's easy when you stop pretending that you just got lost on the way It's easy when you stop pretending that you'll never ever see her, yeah you've seen her going down (and down and down and down and down)
