

Madness

All That Remains

History repeats itself
Over and over, again and again
Why should we escape ourselves
We are who we are in the end
In the end Over & over again
Over & over again This is madness, madness
And you know that
This is madness, madness
And you know that
This is never-changing, it's always been this way
Consuming madness, madness
Enemies who once were friends
Round and around till we know how it ends
I can't believe how sickening
All the love lost we can't even pretend Over & over again
Over & over again This is madness, madness
And you know that
This is madness, madness
And you know that
This is never-changing, it's always been this way
Consuming madness, madness
This is madness, madness
And you know that
This is madness, madness
And you know that
This is never-changing, it's always been this way
Consuming madness, madness
